BLEU NATURE ORIGINS

ICONS REVIVAL

Back in 1995, the design world discovered Bleu Nature's driftwood furniture.

A unique and amazing vision on a raw and natural material, branches shaped by currents and weathered by time. At the roots of eco-design, a creative process of composition, harmony, shapes and patinas.

To celebrate Bleu Nature's 25th anniversary, Frank Lefebvre, Founder of the brand is reissuing about fifty emblematic pieces, acclaimed by customers or had a tremendous success on international trade fairs of decoration and design.

These models have not been produced for seven years. They come back now in a high-end handcrafted version with a new material: Cultivated Driftwood.

ORIGINS

« I wanted to pay tribute to customers and suppliers who have been faithful during all these years.

By reissuing iconic pieces in cultivated driftwood, I come back to the roots and origins by responding to strong expectations of early fans and sensitive new generations on eco-responsible products. »

Frank LEFEBVRE

Cultivated Driftwood: Eco-design material

Cultivated driftwood is wood from European certified forests. Considered as pruning waste, the wood is collected, selected and tumbled.

The process used is natural, non-polluting and speeds up the wear process.

True to the ecological ambitions of the designer and founder of the brand, the process is a new green waste collecting and recycling channel

Warning: the whole lighting range presented here ( floor lamps, bedside table lamps, sconces, chandeliers etc ...) is sold without electrification system.

However, an architect or an electrician will know how to install the material and guarantee its proper use
